DECISION ON NORWICH & WESTERLY

Judge Noyes Overrules Demurrer—Deficiency in Witnessing of Mortgage Doesn't Matter-Matter Should Be Hurried Along.

his office in New Haven, Saturday, from Judge Noyes, relative to the demurrer of intervening creditors to the foreclosure of the mortgage of $750,000 against the Norwich & Westerly railroad. The demurrer, which was set up in the court a few days ago, is overruled. But this does not end the case, for the intervening creditors may continue their fight against the foreclosure in an attempt to make their claims as good as those of the bond-holders.

The mortgage protecting the bond-holders is shared in by New Haven investors, who own about $100,000 worth of the bonds. Outside of the mortgage there is about $200,000 due to creditors, $200,000 more in interest and something like $109,000 in miscellaneous claims, so that the whole is nearly a half million, or, with the mortgage, say $1,250,000. The overguling of the demurrer is a victory for the bondholders, although it is not sure that they can foreclose without a fight.

determined on one of pleading. If the master."

A decision was received by clerk recording of a railroad mortgage be Pickett of the United States court, at his office in the United States court, at failure to record makes it a nullity. the allegation of the bill that the rail-road duly made the mortgage neces-sarily implies that all steps necessary to make a valid mortgage were taken On the other hand, if the recording requirement be not essential to the validity of a mortgage, it seems unnecessary to allege recording in a foreclosure suit. The first question, therefore, must be answered in the negative.

"The question concerning descrip-

For these reasons the de-murrer will be overruled without costs and with the privilege to inter-venor of answering over. The order venor of answering over. The order of October 15, 1910, striking out the receiver as a party defendant, will be set aside, and the receiver is granted ruling of the demurrer is a victory for the bondholders, although it is not sure that they can fereclose without a fight.

Judge Noyes' decision is in part as follows:

"The questions presented by the demurrer to the bill were: Whether it is necessary that the bill should expressiy allege the recording of the mortgage: whether the description of the mortgage is sufficient, and whether the mortgage is sufficient, and whether the mortgage is sufficient, and whether the mortgage is void because it has only one witness.

"In considering the first question, it is necessary to examine or construe the provisions of the Connecticut recording laws. The question may be determined on one of pleading. If the

Two Suits Settled. Two Suits Settled.

The case of Whipple vs. Sutton, which has been on the court dockets for over two years, was settled amicably Saturday morning, when an agreement was reached by the partles in litigation. The suit originated over two years ago, when it was brought by Mrs. Clara A. Whipple against James B. Sutton for recovery of a bill for lumber furnished. Since that time the original plaintiff has died and the suit was continued by her husband. Business among the police was brisk on Sunday, and it seemed like the old days, when the blotter used to be filled with cases of intoxication and breach of the peace for Monday morning. Today there are twelve cases to be heard, all being for intoxication. Five of the cases came from Greeneville, and the arrests were made throughout the day, a few being taken in Saturday night.
